It is by faith that we see Jesus Christ: we know that He is the Word of God; we believe his Word, in his Church; we want to follow the path He mapped out for us so that through Him we can come to the Father; and, through Him, we shall be raised up on the last day. Yes, if we are nourished with the bread from his Table and drink from his Chalice, we shall have his Life in us. We become one with Him by participation in his Body and Blood in the Eucharist.

But Christ present on our altars is not only the food of life; He is also the expiatory victim, offering Himself there to the Father for our sins. In fact, the Mass is the unbloody renewal of the sacrifice of the Cross; it is Christ offered as a victim for our sins, under the species of bread and wine. The Cross, on which He gave his life for us, is the greatest proof of his love; and He chose to give us with his own hands the living memorial of his manifestation of his love, by instituting the Eucharist during the Last Supper that He shared with his Apostles: Now as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and broke it, and gave it to the disciples and said, "Take eat; this is my body. And he took a cup, and when he had given thanks he gave it to them, saying, "Drink of it, all of you; for this is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many for the forgiveness of sins. (Mt 26, 26-28)

Jesus gives us his Body and then his Blood which, He says, is "poured out for many". The word "many" as used here does not exclude "some", as if Jesus had not died for all; but, as I have heard many commentators saying, that word is to be understood in a sense in which it was used in the language of that people: "many" being the opposite of "one", that is, one who dies instead of many. It was in this sense that the high priest, Caiphias, justified the necessity of the death of Jesus: "You do not understand that it is expedient for you that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation should not perish." (Jn 11, 50)

Christ truly shed his Blood for the whole of humanity, for all, without excluding anyone. But it is also true that not everyone is interested, or makes the effort to welcome into their lives Jesus Christ, the price of their ransom, thereby excluding themselves from the Redemption. How can we not think of the very many who do not know or who do not wish to be nourished by his Body and Blood? What will happen to them? "Truly, truly, I say to you, unless you eat the flesh of the Son of man and drink his blood, you have no life in you." (Jn 6, 53). This is the reply that Jesus gave us in connection with those who do not wish to avail themselves worthily of the gift that He offers us, namely, the gift of his Body and Blood, really and truly present in the Sacrament of the Eucharist.

"CALLS" from the MESSAGE of FATIMA is a long letter, written entirely by Sr. Lucia, a visionary of the apparitions in Fatima, Portugal. Sister Lucia asked the Holy See for permission to write a text in which she could reply in general to the many questions that had been put to her. Permission was granted and this text is the result.

Overview for the Month of June

The month of July is dedicated to The Precious Blood of Jesus. The entire month falls within the liturgical season of Ordinary Time, which is represented by the liturgical color green. This symbol of hope is the color of the sprouting seed and arouses in the faithful the hope of reaping the eternal harvest of heaven, especially the hope of a glorious resurrection. It is used in the offices and Masses of Ordinary Time. The last portion of the liturgical year represents the time of our pilgrimage to heaven during which we hope for reward.

JULY SAINT QUOTE

"If God causes you to suffer much, it is a sign that He has great designs for you, and that He certainly intends to make you a saint."

- St. Ignatius of Loyola [MEMORIAL: JULY 31ST]

MONTHLY INTENTIONS of POPE BENEDICT XVI

GENERAL:

That the Christians of the Middle East may live their faith in full freedom and be an instrument of peace and reconciliation.

MISSION:

That the Church may be the seed and nucleus of a humanity reconciled and reunited in God's one and only family, thanks to the testimony of all the faithful in every country in the world.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

by Gina Zanicky, Production Administrator

This month, we as a nation recall our country's birth and rejoice in our freedom by celebrating Independence Day. During most of the year we might find it difficult to truly appreciate this awesome event. We hardly ponder what our lives would be like and how our world would be drastically different had July 4th, 1776 been like any other.

While we celebrate this tangible freedom with a long weekend, fireworks and cookouts, we may think that our struggle for freedom is over. But a brief reflection on the sorrow, confusion and frustration that often touch our lives will help us to understand that true freedom means more than the birth of our nation. For as beautiful as our national freedom is, it will not endure into eternity. True freedom is far more personal through our ability to choose to follow Jesus Christ: the Way, the Truth, and the Life.

Each Sunday we celebrate in a special way the Resurrection of Jesus Christ. This in fact is a reminder of our true Independence Day. Christ broke the chains of sin and death, opening wide the doors of eternal life for us. Every moment of every day we have the freedom of will to decide whether to accept this independence offered or to selfishly reject it. Any persons or nations who choose immorality over Christ's gift of freedom make themselves captives to sin. The hurt, spiritual oppression and addictions in our world bear witness to this truth. Let us make the most of this month of independence and freedom by taking advantage of the opportunity to receive the Sacrament of Reconciliation and experience the true meaning of independence — independence from sin.

PRAYER of SURRENDER

by ST. IGNATIUS of LOYOLA

*Take, O Lord, and receive my entire liberty, my memory, my understanding and my whole will. All that I am and all that I possess You have given me:
I surrender it all to You to be disposed of according to Your will. Give me only Your love and Your grace; with these I will be rich enough, and will desire nothing more.*

exciting DEVELOPMENTS

by Jim Havens, Director of Programming and Evangelization

We are very excited to bring back a fan favorite, Conference Talks, to a regular weekday timeslot. It will now air every weekday from 12-1PM. The show features many of the best Catholic speakers around and it is a sure resource for you to be nourished with the life-changing truth and reality of the Catholic faith. Culture Gauge Live was a blessing while it lasted, and although we have decided to discontinue the show at this time, you can still find the relevant commentary and cultural analysis online at www.culturegauge.com

Another addition to our programming lineup is The Catholic Business Hour with host Dick Lyles. The show airs live every Saturday morning at 11AM and focuses on careers and business from a Catholic perspective. You can check out their web-site at: www.catholicbusinessjournal.biz

Finally, we are pleased to announce the addition of a new staff member at The Station of the Cross: Steve Lawson, Community Action Associate. Everything we do here at the station has the common goal of evangelizing as many people as we can. We simply desire to effectively invite people into the fullness of the Truth so that they may follow Jesus Christ authentically and dwell in the heart of His Catholic Church. We strive to accomplish this goal in two ways: through orthodox radio programming and dynamic community action. We are ready to take the next step toward strengthening our ability to personally interact with the community in order to offer you more opportunities to enhance your faith. Our programming and our community action will powerfully complement one another as we continue to proclaim the fullness of Truth in clarity and charity.

NEW STAFF MEMBER

by Steve Lawson, Community Action Associate

Originally from the Town of Tonawanda, I have been living in Rochester for the last four years studying for an undergraduate degree in Film and Animation at the Rochester Institute of Technology. During these past four years I had the opportunity of living in New York City for a semester where I worked on projects for McDonald's and VH1, while simultaneously rediscovering my Catholic faith. Since my dreams centered on being the next Walt Disney since the age of 11, working for Catholic radio would have been the last place I would have pictured myself two years ago.

In reality, Catholic radio isn't that far from my original plans in animation. One of my fellow animation students once told me, "Animators are just people trying to create their own reality because they aren't satisfied with the reality they see." Although this was said nonchalantly in a passing conversation, this idea stuck with me as my Catholic faith became the focal point of my life. In hindsight, what really attracted me to Walt Disney was his ability to create other worlds, better worlds than what you see on the nightly news. In animation these realities are merely illusions of life, but with Catholicism one finds the truth about the reality in which we actually live. This reality is far greater and more beautiful than anything mankind can manufacture.

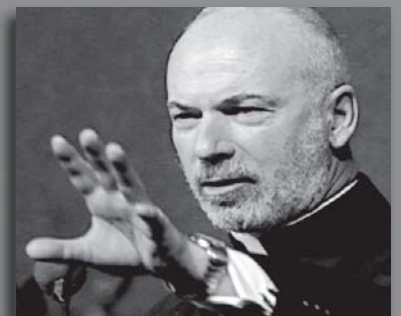

I am truly blessed to be able to pursue my passion for Jesus Christ and His Church while serving the greater Buffalo and Rochester community. I look forward to going out into the community along with Jim Havens and meeting many of you in our pursuit to spread the Kingdom of God. God Bless you and your family.
